

The Cyber Innovation Center, in partnership with Louisiana Tech University's College of Engineering & Science and Centenary College's Frost School of Business, will host a special presentation by Dr. Tim Elmore.

Dr. Tim Elmore is the founder and president of Growing Leaders, an Atlanta-based non-profit organization created to develop emerging leaders. Through Growing Leaders, Dr. Elmore and his team provide public schools, state universities, civic organizations and corporations with the tools they need to help develop young leaders who can impact and transform society. Dr. Elmore's curriculum is widely recognized as one of the most effective programs for training and inspiring our next generation of leaders.

Dr. Elmore has written more than 20 books, including the best-selling book series Habitudes™: Images that Form Leadership Habits and Attitudes, Life Giving Mentors, and Nurturing the Leader Within Your Child. His latest book, Generation iY: Our Last Chance to Save Their Future, was released in August 2010.

He has delivered leadership training and keynotes to hundreds of academic and corporate organizations in more than 30 countries as well as athletic organizations including the University of Texas, the University of Alabama and the San Francisco Giants Baseball Club. He has also taught courses on leadership and mentoring at nine universities and graduate schools across the U.S.

More information about Dr. Tim Elmore and Growing Leaders can be found at www.growingleaders.com.

The presentation will be held on Monday, November 7, 2011, at 5:00 p.m. at the Shreveport Convention Center, Captain Shreve Ballroom.

The event is free to attend. However, those wishing to attend must RSVP by Wednesday, November 2 to JoAnn Marshall at joann.marshall@cyberinnovationcenter.org.

Due to security at the facility, anyone whose name is not on the entry list will not be permitted to attend. Identification will be requested.
